Sunday Message

16TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

THE WORD

Year C • Psalter Week 4

WHAT DOES JESUS REALLY NEED? (LUKE 10:38-42)

Stained glass window depicting visit of Jesus to home of Martha and Mary

In the course of his journey to Jerusalem, Jesus is welcomed into the house of a woman named Martha and her sister, Mary. Women feature more prominently, and by name, in the Gospel version of Luke than in the other accounts.

In this episode, Jesus encounters hospitality, not just friendliness or politeness, but an essential element in the culture of that time and place. Up to now, we have heard warnings and examples about hostility and rejection. But even in this apparently cosy, domestic scene there is a message. ■

LEARN

The word used for “serving” in Luke’s Gospel is the root from which we derive “deacon” and “diaconate”.

The subject of the verb in Luke’s Gospel is, apart from Jesus, women.

Women are those who supported Jesus and his other disciples out of their own resources.

Hospitality, offering protection and safety toward the stranger and pilgrim, was a sacred duty in the time of Jesus.

DO

Donate to the St Vincent de Paul Society in your parish: better, how could you help in their ministry of befriending lonely people in your area?

SAY

Will you let me be your servant, be as Christ to you?

REFLECT

One method of meditation encourages us to place ourselves in the Gospel scene which we are considering. So, if we imagine Jesus in the house of Martha and Mary, we might ask ourselves, “What did Jesus really need at this moment?” Perhaps he was tired from his journey, exasperated with his male disciples and their lack of understanding about himself and his mission. On a purely human level, maybe he simply needed to talk, which would mean that he needed someone to listen to him.

Most of us would feel sympathy for Martha: we can imagine the clashing of pots and pans increasing in volume as her frustration at being left in the kitchen to prepare the meal alone grows. Eventually, her patience runs out and she bursts into the conversation between Jesus and Mary. But if she had her way, Jesus would be left sitting alone while the two of them busied themselves in the kitchen. Is that what hospitality means? Does it centre on the accepted duties of the host being fulfilled, or is it a matter of meeting the needs of the guest? What were Jesus’ needs at this point? A meal, or rather human company and attention?

Martha is clear about her duties towards her guest. But Jesus gently points out that perhaps she has got her priorities wrong. She is concerned about fulfilling her responsibilities but seems totally unaware of the needs or feelings of her guest. Luke presents Jesus in his Gospel as a prophet, and the prophet is the bearer of the word, which has to be spoken and to be listened to. In this sense, it is Mary who is presented as “choosing the better part”. But Martha is avoiding listening to Jesus, although, from her point of view, she is doing the right thing. Luke is suggesting that that the word of God takes precedence over other considerations.

What people really need is someone to listen to them, someone to talk to. It is natural to feel that making tea and providing sandwiches is the right thing to do to meet someone’s immediate needs. Often well-meaning people will busy themselves in such ways but have no time to spend with the persons to whom they are ministering. On a practical level, the story of Martha and Mary is posing an important question: what does the person in front of you really need? Whose needs are you addressing: theirs or yours? ■

A miracle in Lourdes by Fr Matthew

As many of you will be aware I recently attended the diocesan pilgrimage to Lourdes and read about the fascinating healing of John Traynor which I would like to share with you.

"Out in the open now I ran towards the Grotto, which is about two or three hundred yards from the Asile. This stretch of ground was gravel then, not paved, and I was barefoot. I ran the whole way to the Grotto without getting the least mark or cut on my bare feet. The brancardiers were running after me but they could not catch up with me. When they reached the Grotto, there I was on my knees, still in my night clothes, praying to Our Lady and thanking her."

What is remarkable about this story is not the undamaged bare feet or the outrunning of the brancardiers, but the fact that the afternoon before, John Traynor had been a partly paralysed epileptic who had not walked for eight years.

His condition was a result of war wounds from World War I. Subsequent operations to join severed nerves in his useless arm were unsuccessful, and he had a steel plate inserted in his skull to protect his exposed brain and to ameliorate epilepsy (which it had not). He was wheelchair bound, doubly incontinent and certified as being permanently and completely disabled by the War Pensions Agency, being awarded a 100 percent disability pension.

He was cured as he was being blessed by Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament whilst on pilgrimage to Lourdes in July 1923. He is one of many thousands of cures that have come out of Lourdes. His cure can be said to be inexplicable because it was examined by the Medical Bureau at Lourdes. They concluded in their official report on 6th October 1926, "This extraordinary cure is absolutely beyond and above the powers of nature." The doctors who examined him could find no trace of paralysis or epilepsy, his previously atrophied arm and shoulder muscles were fully restored, the hole in his skull had fused over with bone - there was no trace of the steel plate - and he was fully mobile again. When he returned home to his native Liverpool, a crowd had assembled at Lime Street Station to welcome him.

Curiously despite this evidence, his case never went forward for the process of canonical acceptance and registration as an official miracle, although the Medical Bureau were in no doubt as to the miraculous nature of the cure. John Traynor died of unrelated causes more than twenty years later, having subsequently worked as a coal merchant for most of those years. As for the officials at the War Pensions Agency, they were unwilling to accept the cure, and so for the rest of his life Mr Traynor remained officially incapacitated and on a full war pension.

Next week's Mass times

Please note that the Mass times are interrupted by the fact that both Fr Lim and Fr Matthew will be attending the Diocesan Clergy Conference at the request of Bishop Patrick (Monday to Wednesday).

On Friday evening, again both priests will be away at Canon Patrick Basse's 25th Anniversary of Ordination celebrations, so there will be no Friday evening Mass.

In your charity please pray for Fr Robert Rutledge and all who have died recently, may they rest in peace. Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen. Please pray for their families at this difficult time; for those whose anniversaries occur at this time; for all who are sick and housebound and those who have no family to support them. We remember all those who are in hospital or are having treatment, those whose treatment has been cancelled or postponed and those who are in nursing homes or being cared for.

Teas and Coffees

Will be served in the St Bernadette's Parish Centre after the 11.00 am Sunday Mass this weekend. All are invited to attend.

Day for Life

This weekend "The Day for Life" is the day each year on which the Catholic Church in Great Britain and Ireland focuses on the meaning and value of human life at every stage and in every condition. . . . This year, Pope Francis has been using his weekly General Audience to offer in-depth catechesis on old age, and he has said: "The little ones learn the power of tenderness and respect for frailty: irreplaceable lessons that are easier to impart and receive with grandparents. For their part, grandparents learn that tenderness and frailty are not solely signs of decline: for young people, they are conditions that humanise the future." There will be a second collection over that weekend to assist life-related activities supported by the Church. (Taken from an article by Fr Andrew Cole)

Parish Walking Treasure Hunt

Saturday, 23rd July from 2:30 to 5:30pm beginning and ending at St Bernadette's Church; this Treasure Hunt route is an opportunity to explore the local area in Ashby. Sandwiches, cakes and refreshments will be served in the Parish Centre from 4:00 pm. Tickets will be available after weekend Masses at a cost of £5.00 for adults, £2.50 for children and £15 for a family ticket. You can email: sbernadettesashby@gmail.com or leave a message on the parish office answer machine (01724) 842197.

All proceeds will go to Church Funds.

Welcome

We welcome Archbishop John Wilson who will be the celebrant at the 11.00 am Mass on Sunday 24th July at St Bernadette's.

FIRST READING

Genesis 18:1-10

A reading from the book of Genesis.

The Lord appeared to Abraham at the Oak of Mamre while he was sitting by the entrance of the tent during the hottest part of the day. He looked up, and there he saw three men standing near him. As soon as he saw them he ran from the entrance of the tent to meet them, and bowed to the ground. "My Lord," he said "I beg you, if I find favour with you, kindly do not pass your servant by. A little water shall be brought; you shall wash your feet and lie down under the tree. Let me fetch a little bread and you shall refresh yourselves before going further. That is why you have come in your servant's direction." They replied, "Do as you say."

Abraham hastened to the tent to find Sarah. "Hurry," he said "knead three bushels of flour and make loaves." Then running to the cattle Abraham took a fine and tender calf and gave it to the servant, who hurried to prepare it. Then taking cream, milk and the calf he had prepared, he laid all before them, and they ate while he remained standing near them under the tree.

"Where is your wife Sarah?" they asked him. "She is in the tent" he replied. Then his guest said, "I shall visit you again next year without fail and your wife will then have a son."

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

PSALM

Psalm 14

Response:

The just will live in the presence of the Lord.

1. Lord, who shall dwell on your holy mountain?
He who walks without fault;
he who acts with justice
and speaks the truth from his heart;
he who does not slander with his tongue.
(R.)
2. He who does no wrong to his brother, who casts no slur on his neighbour,
who holds the godless in disdain,
but honours those who fear the Lord. (R.)
3. He who keeps his pledge, come what may;
who takes no interest on a loan and accepts no bribes against the innocent.
Such a man will stand firm for ever. (R.)

SECOND READING

Colossians 1:24-28

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Colossians.

It makes me happy to suffer for you, as I am suffering now, and in my body to do what I can to make up all that has still to be undergone by Christ for the sake of his body, the Church. I became the servant of the Church when God made me responsible for delivering God's message to you, the message which was a mystery hidden for generations and centuries and has now been revealed to his saints. It was God's purpose to reveal it to them and to show all the rich glory of this mystery to pagans. The mystery is Christ among you, your hope of glory: this is the Christ we proclaim, this is the wisdom in which we thoroughly train everyone and instruct everyone, to make them all perfect in Christ.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!
Open our heart, O Lord,
to accept the words of your Son.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL

Luke 10:38-42

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke.

Jesus came to a village, and a woman named Martha welcomed him into her house. She had a sister called Mary, who sat down at the Lord's feet and listened to him speaking. Now Martha who was distracted with all the serving said, "Lord, do you not care that my sister is leaving me to do the serving all by myself? Please tell her to help me." But the Lord answered: "Martha, Martha," he said "you worry and fret about so many things, and yet few are needed, indeed only one. It is Mary who has chosen the better part; it is not to be taken from her."

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;

through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

(all bow during the next three lines)

and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord,
the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored
and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins
and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

O God, who in the one perfect sacrifice brought to completion varied offerings of the law, accept, we pray, this sacrifice from your faithful servants
and make it holy, as you blessed the gifts of Abel,
so that what each has offered to the honour of your majesty
may benefit the salvation of all.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

The Lord, the gracious, the merciful, has made a memorial of his wonders;
he gives food to those who fear him.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

Graciously be present to your people,
we pray, O Lord,
and lead those you have imbued with heavenly mysteries to pass from former ways to newness of life.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.
